

Hi! I am Emma Asay. This is my final year as a student at Shoreline Dance Academy. The journey from kindergarten to 12th grade has been a wonderful experience for me, the kindness and patience of all my teachers through the years has been something I attempt to emulate when teaching others. Dance has taught me perseverance and how to move through a space with grace. I enjoy teaching others to dance in both a casual way and a more formal one, I occasionally host dancing events at my house and teach the waltz or swing dancing, the education I received at shoreline makes teaching others and collaborating with peers natural and enjoyable. I plan to attend Messiah University this coming fall where I hope to continue dancing. I cannot wait for what God has for me in this new chapter of life.
